

Hutchinson yesterday morning to attend the prohibition convention.

Mr. Heath brought up a stalk of corn measuring eleven feet and a half in height: nearly long enough to make two R. R. ties, John, but not quite.