The Rev. J. E. Hoick, pastor of Lutheran Grace church, San Jose, Cal., is at home visiting his aged parents in Oswego. Leaving here about twenty years ago, he is now one of the most successful clergymen in the California synod, belonging to the General synod, whose meetings as delegate he attended in Atchison, Kansas, a few weeks ago. While at home, he kindly consented to bring before the eyes of the public some of the wonders of his present residence.

This evening at eight o'clock he will give an illustrated lecture, with colored stereopticon pictures, in the basement of the German Lutheran St. Paul's church, showing the wonderful production, flowers, trees, mansions, missions, scenery, landscapes, etc., of that country. Admission free. Pastor Hoick will deliver also a lecture in the English Lutheran St. Matthew's church Thursday evening, being present in Oswego only during this week.
